

A ROLL OF HONOR

List of Nation's Defenders Residing in Bedford County

BOYS IN BLUE

Who Survive the Ravages of War and Time—But One Soldier of the War with Mexico.

The following list of the soldiers living in Bedford County was prepared by Frank McCoy, a member of the 81st Pa. Infantry, of Steelman, at his own expense. For this work Mr. McCoy deserves much credit.

It is Mr. McCoy's desire and also the request of The Gazette that corrections or omissions be sent to him or to this office, as it is our intention to publish the list in pamphlet form. Let every soldier take an interest in this so that the record may be accurate. A copy of the pamphlet will be mailed free to each one on the list.

1908 CORN CROP

Germination Test Proved Late Planting Caused Many Failures

A good farmer learns some of his most valuable lessons by failures. While there was considerable good corn this year, much of it was far below the average. Generally the reasons for the trouble are not hard to find. Where the ground is plowed and then allowed to stand for some time before harrowing, the evaporation of soil moisture that might be avoided by more careful farming had a serious effect on the corn crop. If a field is dry enough to plow it is dry enough to harrow, and the harrow ought to follow the plow so closely that no plowed land lies unharrowed even over night. Where there is fair assurance of dry weather during a part of the season no means of saving up the stored moisture ought to be overlooked, as the loss of stored moisture from leaving plowed land unharrowed may mean the difference between a fine crop and a poor one.

Late planting was responsible for many of the failures. It has been proved by careful experiments that late planted corn "seldom yields as much as that planted earlier, and the quality is inferior." The first few weeks of the plant's life usually tell the story of the crop. If corn, for instance, has had a vigorous and uninterrupted growth from early in the spring, it comes to the dry spell able to take care of itself. The cultivations during the wet season have protected the underground water supply and prevented the loss of fertility through the rank growth of weeds in early spring. It was the uniform experience in this section that while the early planted corn made a fair crop, the late corn amounted to little.

The value of the germination test was also clearly proved in the actual stands in the fields, where only 100 per cent. tested corn was planted as compared with fields planted with ears selected from appearance only. The most thorough test was made by C. B. Culp, who planted only ears which showed strong, vigorous sprouts under the germination test. Here practically a 100 per cent. stand was obtained and the yield was, in spite of the bad season, almost as heavy as he has heretofore had under the most favorable conditions with the same strain of corn.

The correctness of the germination test was also carefully checked by Mr. Culp, who planted six grains from each of three ears testing 100 per cent. germination, and six grains from each of three ears testing 0 per cent. germination. Every grain of the ears that tested 100 per cent. made its stalk; none of that testing 0 per cent. made a plant or showed germination when dug up.

These six ears were critically examined here before the check-test was made and we could not see any difference; they were all about the same size, all healthy and normal in appearance, and equally well-cured. Under the old method of selecting seed, Mr. Culp would have planted the corn from these worthless ears as well as from the good. But for the test, some thousands of utterly worthless seeds would have been planted, resulting in a poor stand.

Then would have come the replanting; and every farmer of experience knows of how little value corn replanted to fill in a field is. The replants, putting out their silk after the pollen has been exhausted from the corn first planted, are let to pollinate among themselves in a widely scattered condition; such corn has not half a chance, and of course it does not amount to anything.

The field results, in cases where testers were made and used for the seed corn last spring, were such that every man who tried it is going to do so again. That alone means from 15 to 40 per cent more corn.

A. B. Ross.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Issued on Tuesday by Governor Stuart—Thursday, November 26.

Harrisburg, Pa., November 10.—Governor Stuart today issued his Thanksgiving proclamation:

In conformity with a well established and laudable custom, I, Edwin S. Stuart, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby set apart Thursday, November 26, as a day for giving thanks and praise to the Lord, for His infinite goodness and mercy.

For bountiful harvests, peace and returning prosperity, for protecting us from pestilence and famine, and for the manifold mercies we have received during the past year, our people have reason to go to God in thanksgiving and prayer. For a land of homes, churches and schools, and for the things which make happiness and contentment, we should never cease to be grateful.

On this day let us assemble in our churches and places of worship and express our gratitude to Almighty God for the blessings we have received, and pray for a continuance of His Divine favors. Let us not forget that our thanksgiving is mere lip service if we neglect the poor, the unfortunate, and the afflicted.

Given under my hand, and the great seal of the state, at the City of Harrisburg, the tenth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eight, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and thirty-third.

(Signed) EDWIN S. STUART.
By the Governor,
ROBERT McAFEE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

MENTIONED IN BRIEF

Town Talk and Neighborhood Notes Tersely Told

MANY ITEMS OF INTEREST

Gleaned From Various Sources—Little Points Picked Up By Vigilant Reporters.

Calvin Otto has erected an addition to his West Pitt Street home.

Albert Miller Cope of Cumberland and Fannie Bryant of Saxton were married in Cumberland this week.

Miss Marie Drenning, a graduate of the Lancaster Business College, is assisting in the office of Dr. W. F. Enfield.

H. F. Tomer and John Quigg, of Pittsburg, and Walter Wynecoop of Altoona are on a hunting trip below Everett.

Over $107 was realized by the ladies of the Catholic Church at their chicken and waffle supper Wednesday of last week.

The office of Dr. L. D. Blackwelder will be closed from November 16 to December 1 while the Doctor is enjoying a vacation.

We are indebted to the faculty of State College for an invitation to the "Pennsylvania Day" services on Friday, November 20.

A marriage license was issued in Somerset County this week to Lemon J. Dobson of Windber and Annie P. Ferguson of Springhouse, this county.

Last week's issue contained a notice of the death of Mrs. Andrew Friend of Colerain Township. This should have read "Mrs. Andrew Feight."

Miss Alice E. Wishart of Well's Tannery, who recently returned from India, will give a missionary address in the Presbyterian Church at Saxton Sunday evening.

John L. Bowser of Hazelwood, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Repp and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Cuppett, of Johnstown, attended the funeral of J. P. Whitaker last Sunday.

Miss Annie Diehl has been ill for the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Diehl, No. 345 West Pitt Street, with a slight attack of appendicitis.

A little daughter was born last Saturday to Mrs. Elmer E. Shriner (nee Miss Edith Porter) of Akron, O., who is a guest at the home of her uncle, James M. Kegg, East Pitt Street.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. John's Reformed Church will hold a market on Wednesday before Thanksgiving. Cakes, pies and candy will be among the things for sale.

The boys of the High School are preparing to present "A Mock Trial" Friday evening of Thanksgiving vacation. The proceeds to be used to equip a laboratory for the High School.

Tuesday night definite action was taken by the Physicians' Protective Association of Huntingdon County toward obtaining a hospital for their county. Aid will be asked from the Legislature.

A chicken and waffle supper will be held by the members of the Trinity Reformed Church of Friend's Cove at the residence of Philip Diehl the evening of Thanksgiving, November 26. An invitation is extended to all.

Preparations are being made by "The Ever-Ready Circle" of Trinity Lutheran Church to hold a bazaar in their lecture room on December 3 and 4. The proceeds will be used toward the purchase of a new heating plant for the church. Keep the dates in mind.

The Turner Art Exhibit held in Assembly Hall last week was well attended and $22.33 was cleared. The proceeds will be used for the purchase of pictures for the hall. Besides the large picture purchased and presented by Simon Oppenheimer, Mrs. Dr. Wuth donated eleven portraits of famous men.

Delaney-Teeter

Dr. Charles W. Delaney, a prominent Altoona physician, and Miss Elda Teeter were married in New York City last Thursday, November 5. The groom is a former resident of Texas and has been practicing in Altoona for about three years. He is on the staff of the city hospital and is organizer of the orthopedic ward, of which he is at the head.

The bride is a daughter of A. B. Teeter of Waterside, this county, and a graduate of the Altoona Hospital of this year. She is well and favorably known in this section.

Boor-Knisely

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Knisely, in Hopewell Township on Wednesday, November 4, Rev. George S. Batzel united in marriage Joseph J. Boor and Miss Alice R. Knisely.

Accidentally Shot

James Shunk, a 16-year-old lad of Six Mile Run, was accidentally shot in the left foot at that place on Wednesday. A gun in the hands of a companion was accidentally discharged, with the above result. The boy was taken to the City Hospital, Altoona, that evening and the bullet was removed.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey D. Tate have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Virginia Hamilton Tate, to Mr. Edwin R. Cochran, Jr., of Wilmington, Del.

LED AS BEST HE COULD

Bryan Confident Something Was Accomplished Through His Efforts

In the presence of his third defeat for the Presidency William Jennings Bryan evinces a spirit of serene acquiescence in the people's will and of comforting reflection that he has at least done some good in compelling the Republican party and the national government to adopt in part or entirely many of the policies he has advocated. He believes that he will be remembered for having had much to do with the destruction of corruption in politics and with the advancement of the cause of the common people as against the favored few. He declares emphatically that he feels no sense of personal disappointment, and no regret. He issued the following statement last Thursday:

"The election has gone against us by a decisive majority. The returns are not all in and it is impossible at the present time to analyze them or to say what causes contributed most to the Republican victory. We made our fight upon a platform which embodied what we believed to be good for the American people, but it is for the people themselves to decide what laws they desire and what methods of government they prefer.

"I have faith that the publicity which we asked for will yet commend itself to the American people, that the election of Senators by the people will be secured, that the inequities of the trusts will arouse an opposition that will result in the elimination of the principle of private monopoly.

"I am confident that the people will see the necessity for the labor legislation and the tariff reduction which our platform demanded. I am confident, too, that the educational work done in this campaign will result in securing greater protection to bank depositors. The above are the most prominent reforms for which we labored, and I believe that these reforms will yet come together with more effective regulation of railroads and independence for the Filipinos.

Led as Best He Could

"I desire to commend the work of our National Committee. I am entirely satisfied with Mr. Mack as the chairman and with the members of the committee. I do not see what they could have done more than they did, and as for myself, I put forth every effort in my power to secure victory for our cause. The nomination came from the hands of the voters; I have obeyed their command and have led as best I could.

"Words will not express my gratitude for the devotion which has been shown by millions of Democrats during the past 12 years. Neither am I able to adequately express my appreciation for the kind words which have been spoken since the election. If I could regard the defeat as purely a personal one, I would consider it a blessing rather than a misfortune, for I am relieved of the burdens and responsibilities of an office that is attractive only in proportion as it gives an opportunity to render a larger public service. But I shall serve as willingly in a private capacity as in a public one. God does not require great things of us. He only requires that we improve the opportunities that are presented, and I shall be glad to improve the opportunities for service presented by private life.

Comforted by Nebraska

"In this hour of national defeat I find some consolation in the cordial support given by my neighbors, by the citizens of Lincoln and by the people of the State of Nebraska. With a Democratic Governor and a Democratic Legislature we shall be able to put into practice so much of the Denver platform as relates to state legislation, and I trust that our state will set an example that will be an influence for good in the nation."

MACK LAUDS BRYAN

For Most Magnificent Battle Ever Waged.

New York, November 6.—Declaring that the Democratic party is more united today than it has been in many years, that Mr. Bryan was defeated by what he claims was misrepresentation to the effect that his election would hurt business interests, Chairman Mack of the Democratic National Committee, says the campaign just closed was the most magnificent political battle ever waged in this country. He is supported in this by the members of the National Committee, state chairmen and other leaders all over the country.

"In his own state, Nebraska, where he is best known, Mr. Bryan was victorious. While it is true that he met with defeat in the Nation, he did so as the candidate of his party, supported by the 6,000,000 or 7,000,000 of his countrymen who voted for him and the principles he so splendidly espoused, and with the respect and admiration of the entire Nation."

Deeds Recorded

GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION

Organized for Purpose of Improving Highways.

The citizens of Bedford and Bedford County are becoming interested in a movement to secure the proposed new state highway from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh along the course of the pike passing through Bedford, and in the general improvement of the roads of the county.

At a meeting held Monday night at the office of Dr. W. C. Miller, W. F. White was appointed temporary chairman and J. Howard Feight secretary. A committee of six was appointed to confer with other citizens of the county and report at the meeting Wednesday night.

The report of the committee appointed to confer with other citizens in regard to the organization of a permanent Good Roads Association was read by Prof. J. Anson Wright and adopted. The following motion was made by Senator Miller: That a committee of three be appointed to formulate a plan of permanent organization and select officers for the same. Carried. The president appointed J. Frank Russell, Dr. L. D. Blackwelder and H. E. Miller.

Mr. Reynolds presented the following resolution: "Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the president of this association be directed to represent to the Governor, to the Members of the Legislature, and to the people of the several counties of this Commonwealth, that the route along and over the turnpike from Harrisburg to Pittsburg, through the counties of Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton, Bedford, Somerset and Westmoreland, and thence westward, is the natural highway for construction of the contemplated state road from the east to the west through the state, especially because it is the shortest way and its construction will be cheaper. It will pass through a rich and populous section, deprived by the course of our industrial development, as other sections have not been, of the advantages of thorough and direct communication with the state and other portions of our country, while to the pleasure-seeking tourists there will be found accommodations and scenery of beauty unexcelled anywhere else, and points rich in historic interest, rendering the route more attractive than any other in the state, for along its course advanced the early settlers in their suffering struggles to maintain the supremacy of the English Colonies and to advance our civilization westward."

Adopted.

Remarks were made by Hon. John M. Reynolds, H. D. Tate, Esq., Judge Savidge, Hon. E. S. Doty, John Wy. Boor, S. F. Statler and O. W. Smith. The committee appointed to formulate a plan of permanent organization made the following report:

First—That an organization be effected of the citizens or property owners of Bedford County to be known as the Bedford County Good Roads Association.

Second—That the business of the said Association shall be conducted by the following officers: President, ten vice presidents, two secretaries, treasurer, an executive committee of (Continued on Fifth Page.)

James H. Noel

James H. Noel, superintendent of the Savage Fire Brick Company's clay mines at Williams, Somerset County, died very suddenly at his residence in Hyndman Monday night soon after retiring. The deceased had recently recovered from a serious illness and resumed the duties of his responsible position. On Monday, as usual, he directed the work of his large force of miners five miles west of Hyndman and returned to his home in excellent spirits. In the evening he attended the evangelistic meeting in the Methodist Church, joining heartily in the services.

The subject of this sketch was born at St. Day, Cornwall, England, February 13, 1850, and at the age of 17 emigrated with his parents to this country, locating at Frostburg, Md., where he was employed as a coal miner. After several years' residence at this place he moved to the west and worked in the silver mines of Colorado and other western states, becoming an expert miner. He accepted a position with the Savage Fire Brick Company thirty years ago, remaining in their employ until the time of his demise.

Mr. Noel was twice married, his first wife being Miss Julia Wagner of Frostburg, who preceded him to the spirit world about fifteen years ago, leaving three sons: William of Frostburg, James of Midland, and Gladstone of Chicago. His second wife was Miss Nellie M. Whitford of Keystone Junction, Somerset County, who, with the following children, survives: Digory and Miss Mary, both of Hyndman.

Deceased was a man of more than ordinary intelligence and highly esteemed by his associates. For many years he was an active member of the M. E. Church and contributed liberally to its support. He was a member of Hyndman Lodge No. 433 K. of P., Hyndman Lodge No. 559 F. and A. M., and Cumberland Chapter Royal Arch Masons,

MAKE THIS UP

Says Many Persons Here Can Be Made Happy Again.

THE PRESCRIPTION

Tells How Any One Can Prepare Simple Home-Made Mixture, Said to Overcome Rheumatism.

There is so much Rheumatism here in our neighborhood now that the following advice will be highly appreciated by those who suffer:

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and tortuous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the Kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

Our home druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

$500 REWARD

The Pittsburgh Gazette Times in Search of Story Writers.

One of the greatest strokes of enterprise by newspaper publishers is the proposal of the Pittsburgh Gazette Times to pay $100 for the best solution to the mystery in Helen Mathers' remarkably clever unfinished new serial, entitled "Love, the Thief," the first instalment of which appeared in The Gazette Times on Sunday, November 8, when full details of the contest were published.

The balance of the $500 will be distributed as follows: $25 to the person who submits the second best solution, $10 to the one sending the third best and $5 each to those who supply the 75 next best.

Thousands of people will hail this opportunity not alone as a means of earning Christmas money, but to show their ability at gathering up the ends of a strange mystery and clearing it in few words. Literary talent is not necessary as The Gazette Times offers the prizes not for a literary composition, but for the best SOLUTIONS to the story.

Men and boys, as well as women and girls may compete. Only the employees of the publishers, in fairness to the public, will be ineligible.

Instalments of the story will appear regularly in the Sunday and daily editions of The Gazette Times to the conclusion of next to the final chapter.

Then solutions will be received during the period lapsing between that issue and the issue of the following week.

The prizes will be awarded at the earliest possible date after the judges have determined the awards—in plenty of time to give the successful contestants use of the money for Christmas.

The Gazette Times announces that manuscripts of contestants must be forwarded by mail, addressed to the Prize Mystery Story Editor, care Pittsburgh Gazette Times, Pittsburgh, Pa. Personal interviews cannot be granted.

HEXAMETHYLENETETRAMINE

The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and antiseptic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities, and avoid a serious malady. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Waists Are Tucked but Not Much Trimmed

Waists of net, either in white or in colors, matching the skirts with which they are to be worn, are elaborately tucked and little trimmed, depending for effect on cut and line rather than on elaboration. Some-times polka dots of various sizes and brilliant color are hand-embroidered on these waists and one lovely blouse of gold-colored net noted was trimmed with vertical bands of Egyptian embroidery—quite a riot of color, but so skillfully designed that it was a delight to the eye.

BEST CATARRH DOCTOR

Has Cured Thousands—Will Cure You or Money Back.

This is the little Hyomei inhaler, the little doctor that has cured many thousands of sufferers from catarrh, bronchitis, asthma, hay fever, coughs, colds, and grip.

It's so easy and pleasant to cure yourself with Hyomei. Just pour a few drops in the little inhaler, and breathe it in. The healing, soothing and antiseptic air will reach every nook and cranny of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat; will stop the irritation almost immediately; will allay the inflammation; drive out the foul odor; kill the germs and cure the disease.

"My wife has been using Hyomei for two months for catarrh and actual size pulmonary trouble. She has received more relief and benefit than from any other treatment."—E. S. Parrott, Jeffersonville, O.

"Hyomei cured me of terrible ear-ache and buzzing in the head. I would not be without it in the house for a single night."—Mrs. S. P. Fuller, Columbia, S. C.

F. W. Jordan, the druggist, sells Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) and guarantees it. A complete outfit, including inhaler, only costs $1, and an extra bottle of Hyomei, if afterwards needed, will cost but 50 cents.

Don't Burn Your Autumn Leaves

You might as well put a $2 bill in the fire as to burn your autumn leaves. The thing to do is to make a compost heap of them, that is, simply pile them up and cover with branches to keep them from blowing away, and a year from now you will have perfect leaf mold to use in potting bulbs and lightening flower beds. Leaf mold is absolutely essential in the cultivation of many lilies and other choice plants.—Garden Magazine.

If You are Over Fifty Read This

Most people past middle-age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders which Foley's Kidney Remedy would cure. Stop the drain on the vitality and restore needed strength and vigor. Commence taking Foley's Remedy today. Ed. D. Heckerman.

"Tryin' to do business without advertising is like winking at a girl in the dark; you know what you're doin', but nobody else does."—"Zimmie," in Johnstown Tribune.

OFFICIAL COUNTY VOTE

The official vote of Bedford County at the recent election, tabulated in this issue of The Gazette, shows that there were 7,930 votes cast for Bryan and Taft, which is 421 short of the number cast for Parker and Roosevelt. The Republican majority for Roosevelt in 1904 was 2,319, while this year Taft's majority over Bryan is 1,588, a reduction of 731.

For Congress there were 7,603 votes cast, which is 377 less than for President, which shows that that number of voters failed to mark their tickets correctly or that they did not desire to vote for the district and county tickets.

TARIFF "HEARINGS"

The Ways and Means Committee is now giving "hearings" to experts with regard to "revising" the tariff. The Republican platform promised "revision," which, as popularly understood, means reduction, but which is likely to be interpreted to mean a change of rates, either upward or downward.

The experts who are testifying are beneficiaries of the Dingley Tariff. Some of them express themselves as satisfied with the present schedule while others ask an increase; none express a willingness to have the rate reduced on the articles in which they are concerned. But it must be remembered that those who testify are either members of tariff-profit combinations or the hired agents of such concerns.

The committee is not inquiring into what effect the duties have upon revenues nor the burden they impose upon consumers. It simply seeks to find out from each beneficiary of the trusts fostered by the tariff whether or not the duty is satisfactorily high.

The Republican National Convention did not dare ignore the demand made by the West and by New England, as well as by the National Manufacturers' Association, hence the promise of "revision;" but that party is not pledged to any reduction in the schedule, and time is likely to reveal the truth of the statement that there will be few reduced rates and many increased ones in the schedule which is to be "revised" by its "friends."

Former Representative M. E. Rhodes of Missouri appeared before the committee this week and asked that the rate be increased on crude barytes from SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS to FIVE DOLLARS per ton, which is an ad valorem duty of ONE HUNDRED SEVENTY PER CENT. There are thousands of tons of barytes used annually in this country in the manufacture of paints, and the representative of the Missouri concern was forced, by a series of questions from the committee, to admit that the crude ore can be mined for Three Dollars per ton.

Mr. Rhodes based his claim to an advance not alone upon a desire to make more money at the expense of the common people, but also on the fact that his state of Missouri gave the Republican ticket a majority at the late election, on the promise that her industries would be protected by the forth-coming "revision" of the tariff.

Were political promises made to be broken during the last campaign by the Republican party, or will the promises be kept by raising the tariff schedules at the expense of the consumers of the nation?

J. Plummer Whitaker

James Plummer Whitaker was a son of John (deceased) and Laura Whitaker and was born in Pleasantville on December 8, 1871. His death, which occurred at his home on East Pitt Street Thursday morning, November 5, was due to inflammation of the stomach. Deceased was aged 36 years, 10 months and 27 days.

On July 20, 1892, he was married to Miss Nellie Mock of New Paris who, with his mother and aged grandmother, survives him. After a short service at his late home at 8:30 o'clock last Sunday morning by Rev. Dr. Culler, the remains were taken to New Paris, where services were held in the Evangelical Church by Revs. G. W. King and L. B. Rittenhouse.

Deceased was a member of Washington Camp No. 81, P. O. S. of A. of this place, which attended the funeral in a body. He came to Bedford from New Paris about 16 years ago and was employed by Charles W. Nagler. Mr. Whitaker was of a quiet and retiring disposition but made many friends who learn of his death with regret.

Mrs. David Mann

Mrs. David Mann, formerly Miss Amy Blackburn, died at her home near New Paris on the morning of November 2, aged 63 years, eight months and four days. She became a member of the United Brethren Church at New Paris in 1873 and was an earnest, active worker. In 1874 she married David Mann and to them were born a son and a daughter, George and Mary, who, with their father, survive a kind mother and a noble wife. Her remains were interred in the Baptist cemetery near New Paris the afternoon of November 3.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Special Session of Court

A session of court was held last Friday, Judge James W. Shull of the forty-first judicial district specially presiding with Associate Judges Brice and Diehl. Judge Shull came to hear argument for a new trial in the case of H. Frank Gump against W. W. McDaniel which was a feigned issue to determine ownership of a traction engine.

He also heard argument for a new trial in the case of The Austin Western Company, Limited, against The Township of East St. Clair, in which plaintiff claimed the sum of $212.50, the amount of one of several notes held by said plaintiff company against said township. The court reserved its decision in each case.

At this session Thomas C. Bradley of Saxton was appointed Congressional return judge.

Suits Instituted

John J. Hess has instituted suit in the Court of Common Pleas of this county against Joseph Sleek of New Paris in which he claims the sum of $100.50 for the boring of a well.

Trexler Brothers & Company have brought suit against H. F. Mearkle of Monroe Township in which they claim $100 for one-half of a share of a German Coach stallion.

HECKERMAN LETTER

A Trip Into the Beautiful and Fertile Ohio Valley.

East Liverpool, O.
The valley of the Ohio has always been denominated by historians as one of the greatest as well as one of the most wonderful in the United States, if not in the world. It was named O-hi-yo by the Indians centuries ago. These same Indians thought it great, just what it means as they spell it, but as we have changed the name and as now spell it, it means beautiful and fertile country. At least, I say so, for it is noted by historians and by those of us who frequently travel up and down its fertile and ever rich valleys, as one of the most wonderful in the world.

This valley was the scene of many Indian wars and cold blooded massacres prior to and since the Revolutionary War, as well as during slavery, for it was through this valley that the famous underground railroad, which carried many of the blacks from bondage to freedom in Canada, passed. Its marvelous mineral wealth has fostered very many manufactures that have made it an industrial empire of itself. Its fertile farms, laden with fruit and products of the soil, are all underlaid with coal and natural gas that have saved millions of fortunes by the excellent and economical fuel.

It has more and larger potteries and brick factories than any other section in the world. There are sixty-five china potteries right in and about this city, and ware from these is shipped to the four corners of the globe. The petroleum that has been found so abundant in many parts of this scenic valley has enriched the already prosperous residents, and the quarries have enlisted and secured capital from all parts of the nation for the development of all these things. Its people, as a rule, are industrious, prosperous and progressive. Comparatively few of the world's millionaires have seen this glorious country, as the main railroads from the east to the west strike off to the north, thus leaving the Ohio Valley for that of the Beaver Valley, or else make a wide circuit and again cross the Ohio River at Steubenville. It was to open to the world this section that the high speed traction line was built from Beaver Falls to Steubenville. This inter-urban line welds together the great industrial district defined by Pittsburgh and Wheeling, thus bringing together more intimately than heretofore a million of population. Therefore, the route, called as it is "The Route of a Million Souls," is most applicable. It is scarcely more than a century since the valleys of the Ohio and Beaver were scenes of the skirmishes of the French and English War for the possession of this western country.

The industrial prosperity about Pittsburgh has so congested things thereabouts that during a very few years people have been compelled to seek sites elsewhere; many have come out here and located and look where you will one sees the oil derrick or the tall smokestack of some valuable furnace. One of the first to invade the Ohio Valley was the Midland Steel Company which has erected blast furnaces and coke ovens, created the town of Midland and induced other manufacturers to come and locate on their fourteen hundred acre piece of ground. The Red Man's canoe long ago gave way to the more useful Ohio River flatboat and in order to make the river navigable the United States is spending millions upon millions to build a series of dams.

The greatest attraction of this city outside of the potteries is Rock Springs Park, which is a beauty indeed; it is just across the river from Chester, W. Va., and is an ideal spot. The Ohio River is the dividing line between the two states. Of the potteries here there are three which are the largest in the world. These potteries employ twelve thousand men and pay about six million a year in wages, making each year about twelve million dollars' worth of wares. This city was the first to use natural gas for commercial use, and goes back to the sixties, having discovered natural gas and used it in drilling salt wells.

The population is about 25,000, having doubled itself in the past ten years. Wellsboro, O., is five miles down the river. There are very large railroad shops here and one also of the important plants of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company. The government has already expended $15,000,000 and just made a beginning in its great undertaking to give these people along the Ohio, from

Pittsburg to Cairo, the benefit of a deep waterway. Yours truly,
M. P. Heckerman.

Sweet Singers

An enthusiastic admirer of Mrs. E. S. Doty's singing heard us the following:

Last Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church Mrs. E. S. Doty and son Cloyd sang as singing birds in June, a duet—"The Half Was Never Told." It was like a shower-bath to the soul. Mrs. Doty possesses an admirable soprano voice, and last Sunday morning it was particularly sweet and rich. I think sometimes that she could sing the world to redemption if she could have it within the sound of her voice.

S. S. CONVENTION

Interesting Meeting Held in Kimmell Township Last Week.

The 11th District of Bedford County held a Sunday School Convention at Greenfield, in Kimmell Township, beginning November 6 at 7:30 o'clock and continuing over Saturday. Devotional services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Zehring and Prof. Beery of Huntingdon, followed by music.

The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. J. D. Hunsicker and responded to by Rev. J. H. Diehl. County Chairman, W. S. Lysinger of Bedford, was then introduced, who gave a very interesting talk on "An Explanation of the Department of Sunday School Work." Singing.

"How to Secure Home Preparation of the Lesson" was discussed by Prof. Levi Walters, Rev. Chambers and Prof. Beery. The session closed with singing and benediction by Rev. Zehring.

The Saturday morning session opened with singing from "The Voice of Praise." Devotional services were conducted by Rev. Chambers.

The first address for the morning, "Proper Use of Illustrations in the Teaching of the Sunday School Lesson" was opened by Rev. Chambers and further discussed by Prof. Beery. After music the topic "When Shall the Lesson be Studied?" was thoroughly discussed by Revs. J. W. Zehring and Hunsicker and Prof. Beery. In the absence of Prof. J. C. Burket, the subject "Every Day Life for the Teacher" was opened by Chairman W. S. Lysinger, and further remarks on the subject were made by Vice President John H. Ickes of Pavia and Rev. Zehring. The meeting closed with benediction by Rev. Hunsicker.

Devotional services of the afternoon meeting were conducted by Rev. J. H. Diehl, followed by singing. The topic, "The Relation of the Parents to the Sunday School and What They Owe," was taken up by Rev. J. H. Diehl.

The next topic being presented, "Fundamentals in Sunday School Work," it was thoroughly reviewed by Prof. M. A. Dively, followed by singing. A recitation, "Unawares," by Frances E. Kauffman was well received. Address on "Sunday Schools Being Kept Open the Entire Year" by W. S. Lysinger. An address on "Home Department Work" by Prof. Beery was followed by reports of treasurer and committees. Minutes of different sessions were read and approved and the convention closed with singing and the benediction by Rev. Diehl.

The next meeting will be held in the Reformed Church at Pavia next fall.

NEW YORK STYLE SHOW

Fall and Winter Fashions of Correct Clothes for Men

The exposition of New York styles in men's, boys' and children's clothes is now being held at Simon's Clothing Store—the acknowledged headquarters for fashionably-dressed men and boys.

At this style show, all the correct styles in men's and boys' apparel are shown—styles that possess all the individuality characteristic of New York's best-dressed men and boys. Styles that are original—far from the commonplace productions of ordinary makers.

In the new suits there are many models shown that are exclusive in design, cut and finish. The very latest ideas of New York's foremost tailors.

We extend a cordial invitation to all to come and see the New York styles in Suits, Top Coats and Raincoats displayed here, whether you intend to purchase or not, for the assortments are far superior to any other ever shown in Bedford. You will like the styles, the quality and the prices.

STATLER'S GENERAL STORE,

BEDFORD, PA.

Fiddled Into Office.

Lossing relates that in 1848 he met at Oswego, N. Y., Major Cochran, then nearly eighty years old, a son-in-law of General Philip Schuyler, who told the story of his election to congress during the administration of the elder Adams. A vessel was to be launched on one of the lakes in interior New York, and people came from afar to see it. The young folks gathered there, determined to have a dance at night. There was a fiddle, but no fiddler. Young Cochran was an amateur performer, and his services were demanded. He gratified the jocular company, and at the supper table one of the gentlemen remarked, in commendation of his talents, that he was "fitted for congress." The matter was talked up, and he was nominated and elected a representative in congress for the district then comprising the whole of New York west of Schenectady. He always claimed to have "fiddled himself into congress."

A Worthy Desire.

An ambitious young Chicagoan called upon a publisher of novels in that city, to whom he imparted confidentially the information that he had decided to "write a book" and that he would be pleased to afford the publisher the chance to bring it out.

"May I venture to inquire as to the nature of the book you propose to write?" asked the publisher very politely.

"Oh," came in an offhand way from the aspirant for fame, "I think of doing something on the line of 'Les Miserables,' only I'll call it, you know!"—Lippincott's.

Spilled His Appetite.

"Every bit of food on this table," said the serving lady to Lamson as he sat down to eat at the church supper. "Was cooked by your wife."

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson VII.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 15, 1908.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Ps. xxiii—Memory Verse, the Whole Psalm—Golden Text, Ps. xxiii, 1—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

(Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.)

How beautiful the description of David in I Sam. xxiii, 1, "David the son of Jesse, the man who was raised up on high, the anointed of the God of Jacob, and the sweet psalmist of Israel," and notice in verse 2 from whence he received his messages, "The spirit of the Lord spake by me, and His word was in my tongue." The tongue and the pen were David's, but the messages were the Lord's by His spirit. See also Ex. 17, 12; Jer. 1, 7-9; Ezek. iii, 10, 11; John xii, 49, and note how the prophets and even our Lord Himself received their messages from God the Father. The spirit of Christ in the prophets had mainly a twofold theme, the suffering of Christ and the glory that should follow (I Pet. i, 11), and in no psalm are these more fully set forth than in Ps. xxiii, written as if by an eyewitness and giving some of the very words He uttered on the cross (verse 1), yet pointing on to His resurrection kingdom and glory, saying, "The kingdom is the Lord's, and He is the governor among the nations" (verse 28).

The psalm for today seems to refer to the millennial glory of Israel and yet was the personal experience of David and may be that of each individual believer. David knew well the life of a shepherd and what it meant to care kindly for the sheep, and even to put his life in danger for them, as when he delivered one of his lambs from a lion and a bear and slew them both (I Sam. xvii, 34-36). As he thought of his care for his flock he could look up to the living God, the Lord of hosts, and say, "Jehovah is my shepherd," and as he knew that his sheep were safe and well cared for under his watchful care, so he was sure that he was even better cared for by his shepherd, the stone of Israel (Gen. xlix, 24; Ps. lxxx, 1). Hear the Lord's own words in this connection in John x, 11: "I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep." Think of Him also as great shepherd living in us and working in us to will and to do of His good pleasure (Heb. xii, 20, 21). Then see (I Pet. v, 1-4) where as the chief shepherd He will reward those who for Him feed His flock. All the blessedness comes from being able to say My Shepherd.

We may know all the facts about Him and believe all that He says. He is and has done and will do, but if there is no personal appropriation there is no benefit. The soul must be able to say My Redeemer, My Lord, My Shepherd. Then we can rest in Rom. viii, 32, and know of a surety that we shall not want, for there is no want to them that fear Him and live uprightly before Him (Ps. xxxiv, 9, 10; lxxxiv, 11). Lying down is restful, and green pastures speak of satisfaction; satisfied and restful. He satisfieth the hungry soul. There is such a thing as abiding satisfied (Prov. xix, 23), and yet there is a satisfaction that will be only when we awake in His likeness (Ps. xlviii, 13). In Him dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead (Col. i, 19; ii, 9), and if we are not filled full in Him the difficulty is with us and not with Him. Not only rest and fullness, but quietness of soul, is ours also in Him (verse 2, margin). He is "The Lord our Righteousness" (Jer. xxiii, 6), and the work of righteousness is peace, and the service of righteousness is quietness and assurance forever. When He giveth quietness, who then can make trouble? (Isa. xxxii, 17; Job xxiv, 29.) Like sheep we are prone to wander, and straying sheep must be sought, for they do not return of their own accord; therefore David said: "I have gone astray like a lost sheep. Seek thy servant" (Ps. cxix, 176).

His sheep can never perish but may lose the joy of salvation, hence the prayer, "Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation" (John x, 28; Ps. li, 12). Being righteousness itself, He can lead only in paths of the same, and this He does, as He does all else, not for our sakes, but for His Name's sake (verse 3; I John ii, 12; Ezek. xxxvi, 22). Let us say: "Lord, I place my hand in Thine and will not murmur nor repine. Content whatever lot I see, since 'tis my God that leadeth me." Our whole life here is lived in the shadow of death, for it is always true as David said elsewhere, "There is but a step between me and death" (I Sam. xx, 3). But He is with us every day and all the way, and nothing can touch us unless He permit it, and if He allows death to touch us it will be a gain, a very far better "absent from the body present with the Lord."

A table in the presence of his enemies was many a time David's experience while fleeing from Saul and Abimelech. It will be ours as far as we need it, and it is for God's glory. Our future as believers is all told in verse 6. God is love, and love is kind, and therefore He cannot permit anything that is not loving kindness as He sees it, however it may look to us. He will dwell in Him and He in us (John xiv, 23; xvii, 23; I Cor. vi, 16-18), and by and by it will be for every child of God "for ever with the Lord," and with Him on His throne (I Thess. iv, 17; Rev. iii, 21). May we ever hear His voice as in Isa. xliii, 1, 2; xlviii, 17; Jer. xiv, 27.

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

It can always be stopped—in the beginning. The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself and at home. Take

When Hypnotized Tramps Meet Death.

A No. 1, the well known tramp, states that riding upon the truck beams between the wheels of a flying passenger train or even of a slower going freight train is exceedingly difficult. The flying cinders deluge the eyes and at times make breathing almost impossible. More than this, he says that unless one strictly watches himself one is in danger of becoming hypnotized. The rhythmically pounding wheels jolting over the joints of the rails have a way of insistently commanding attention that is extremely dangerous. This noise, sharp and repeated with devilish persistence, can hypnotize the unwary he says. Often he has had to use every resource of will power which he has in order to ward off the effects of this endless and mind compelling "click, click, click." He believes that many a tramp who has fallen to his death from the trucks has been first hypnotized in this way. This is perfectly sound psychology, and the probability of such hypnotism will be increased by any good specialist in this disease.—Bohemian Magazine.

Queen Caroline's Pastime.

Queen Caroline, wife of King George IV. of England, with whom she was on the worst possible terms, is described in "The Diary of a Lady in Waiting," written by Lady Charlotte Bury. The queen seems to have tried witchcraft on the king. Lady Charlotte writes on one occasion: "After dinner her royal highness made a wax figure, as usual, and gave it an amiable addition of large horns, then took three pins out of her garments and stuck them through and through and put the figure to roast and melt at the fire. If it was not too melancholy to have to do with this, I could have died of laughing. She indulges in this amusement whenever there are no strangers at the table, and some think her royal highness really has a superstitious belief that destroying this effigy of her husband will bring to pass the destruction of his royal person. What a silly piece of spite! Yet it is impossible not to laugh when one sees it done."

Just Like a Lazy Man.

An elderly gentleman, who would rather sleep late than eat the most attractive breakfast, was leisurely wending his way toward the subway when he was accosted by a breathless woman.

"Oh, mister, a lot of toughs are beating a hurdy gurdy man to death. Can't you help?"

"Where?"

"Right around the corner. Oh please come with me!"

The late sleeper peered through his gold rimmed glasses at the complainant and asked:

"Is he a very big burdy gurdy man?"

"Oh, no, sir! He's a very small man."

"Then surely, my good woman, they can't need any help from me."—New York Press.

The Voice of Fame.
An American author of some note was passing a summer in New Hampshire. One day he received word that a distinguished Englishman was visiting in the country town and would like to call upon the author, of whom, he added in his note requesting an audience, he had heard.

Somewhat flattered, the author wondered to himself who had spoken to the distinguished Englishman about him.

"Some Oxford dignitary doubtless," he reflected pleasantly, "or possibly some London publisher or critic," and he awaited the stranger's arrival with interest.

"So you had heard of me," he ventured after the usual greetings had been spoken. "Well, that is odd. Might I ask who? But his visitor interrupted him.

"Oh, yes!" he said. "I heard all about you before I got here. The porter on the Pullman told me that you were the very man to come to ask about the best route to Niagara and what hotel I'd better stay at."

Paying Visits in Australia.

In Australia a month's visit to a country house would be nothing. Two months—three months—six months—as long as you like would not be considered too long, other things being equal. Nobody thinks of dates. To write and invite you from the 15th to the 30th would be rude. You are asked to stay as long as you like. Or else you ask yourself to stay as long as you like. Or even—to face all the contingencies—you neither ask nor are asked. You simply go. And, having arrived, you remain, for the one unfailing commodity of an Australian country house is welcome. Everything else may give out. If you stay long enough there is sure to be a time when there are no servants, no milk, no vegetables, no meat but mutton, or even no water. But the thoughts of guests going away will never enter the minds of the host and hostess. Good nature, gaiety, informality—these are the leading notes of life in every Australian country house.—London Globe.

The Old Trade.

"H'm!" ejaculated the governor as he perused the card of the newly arrived prisoner. "I see you are a commercial traveler?"

The man assented.

"That presents something of a difficulty. You know, my man, everybody here has got to work. Now, what trade will you take up? You can be a mat-maker, a tailor or a shoemaker. Perhaps you'd like to make brushes or baskets?"

"Excuse me, sir," interrupted the prisoner, "but I think I'd much rather stick to my old trade."

"Well," said the grave and reverend seignior, "we always like prisoners to work at their own trades when possible. But—"

"Oh, that's simple!" interrupted the prisoner eagerly. "I should like the chance of going round selling on commission the things the other fellows make."—London Scraps.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scales the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The Importance of Proper Eye Glasses and Spectacles

The fitting should be carefully done and the cost ought not be great. The eyes of many men and women have been seriously injured, in many cases permanently, by wearing glasses not suited to their eyes. Then again the cost to the wearer is usually many times greater than necessary.

Today's Suggestion by Ellen Stan.

PRACTICAL SHIRT WAIST COSTUME.

THE one piece tailored cloth dress will be much worn for the early fall with furs instead of the jacket suit. This feature will interest women who are now planning their wardrobe for the coming season. The costume illustrated would be a pleasing model for such a dress, and later on it could be used for an afternoon suit. It may be made with or without the panel in front, and such materials as lightweight broadcloth and serge, cashmere, henrietta and mohair, as well as the heavyweight silks, would be attractive and serviceable.

Any one who has done sewing for herself will readily see that the design is so simple that it can be copied successfully even by the most inexperienced, and where so much of the daintiness of a costume depends on the material selected there is no need of choosing more than a simple design to accomplish the desired effect.

This is a thoroughly practical and simple costume and would be especially attractive developed in a dark wistaria broadcloth. Buttons covered with satin to match in color would give a dainty finish to the panel, and the collar and cuffs can be of the satin finely tucked. The belt should also be of the satin draped in soft folds and either fastened under a dainty bow or rosette or arranged under the panel in front.

For a more dressy costume this would be charming carried out in smoke gray crepe de chine. The princess panel can be decorated with a pretty floral design in heavy silk floss. The neck and sleeves can be finished with embroidered collar and cuffs or lace dyed to match the color of the material. A pleated to finish the collar and cuffs of a soft silk in a pink shade would give a pleasing note of color to the costume.

A tobacco brown serge would be pretty as well as serviceable for street wear. The buttons can be covered with satin of a light shade of brown and decorated with dark brown silk to match the color of the material.

This costume closes on the left side of the front and may be made with or without the princess panel. The skirt is nine going and in round length. The pattern is cut in seven sizes—from 32 to 44 inches bust measure. To copy it for the average person it requires 9½ yards of material 27 inches wide or 7½ yards 36 inches wide.

Any reader of this paper who desires to secure this pattern may do so by sending 10 cents to this office. Give the number, 4313, state size desired and write the full address plainly. The pattern will be forwarded promptly by mail.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

Aunt Dinah's Dance.

By CLARENCE L. LOWER.

Copyright, 1908, by Clarence L. Lower.

FOR some time after Maria had finished the story the little girl sat looking thoughtfully out of the window.

"So Mr. Rabbit was only pretending?" she said presently, seeing that the old colored woman showed no sign of continuing the narrative.

"Dat's all, honey," said Maria, poking the week's wash into the steaming boiler with the laundry stick. "Dat's all 'e wuz, des a-pertendin'. Some folks 'spec's dey kin fool yuther folks yeh in an' reah out wid der pertendin'. Sometimes dey does, an' sometimes dey don't. Dey all gits found out in de atind, dough, laik ol' Aunt Dinah, afers she'd done gone on a-foolin' Marn's John de lan' knows how long wid her pertendin'."

"Now, I dunno dat ol' Aunt Dinah wuz mo' lazier dan de common run ob collud folks or ef she'd hoodooed Marn's John inter favorin' her above de res'. But, w'en de rheumatics doubled her up so's she c'd'n't walk 'ceptin' wid two crutches, Marn's John he give out dat she wuzn't ter do no work 'tall, but des tek her time a-settin' at her ease a-doin' ez she liked. So on good days Aunt Dinah set in de sun by de cyabin' do' a-smokin' her pipe, an' a-joverin' de pickaninies; an' on bad days she set by de fire, still a-smokin' her pipe an' a-joverin' de pickaninies an' keepin' 'em all a-runnin' heah an' yon at her beck an' call. An' dat's all she done, an' ez fur ez she went, day after day. But yit folks by day is ez diffrent f'om folks by night ez de shinin' sun is f'om de dahk ob de moon. An' dat's de troof de roun' wor' ober!"

"Ebery onet in er while Marn's John he'd go down de bayou ter Memphis an' be gone days at de time. Whiles he's gone de overseer hab charge. An' all night long de overseer's a-projeckin' eroun', peekin' heah an' peekin' yon, fo' ter see whut's gwine on in de quah-tahs after dahk."

"So one day, w'en Marn's John come back, de overseer go ter 'im, an' 'e say, 'Marn's John, bettah look out fo' ol' Aunt Dinah, 'kase she's des a-pertendin'—dat she ain't lame 'tall, an' she kin dance ez libly ez de spriest yaller gal in de quah-tahs. But Marn's John he on'y say 'Pooh! an' go 'bout his 'bussness."

"Well, bimby Marn's John he go ter Memphis fo' a week. Des ez soon's he's gone Aunt Dinah invites all de d'arkies in de quah-tahs fo' ter come dat ebenin', 'kase dar's gwine ter be a dance an' er possum supper at her cabin, an' Aunt Dinah wuz gwine ter cook de supper, fo' now Marn's John wuz gone away dey c'd'n't have all de highfalutin times dey liked. So w'en de moon come up big an' bright all de d'arkies come ter Aunt Dinah's cabin. Dar wuz young an' old; gray an' grizzled, an' dey filled de room ez full ez hit c'd'n't hold. An', um-m! Talk o' yo' suppers! G'wain, chile! Dat ar wuz a supper ez wuz a supper, I tell yo'! De folks dey eat an' drink an' laugh an' joke ez merry ez crickets. An' all de ebenin' ol' Aunt Dinah stan' up ez peart an' straight ez enny, a-washin' up de supper dishes ez de folks et 'em empty an' a-laughin' an' a-jokin' wid de best."

"HIT MEK DE FOLKS ROLL DAR EYES."

"Bimby dey cl'ar de flo' fo' dancin'!" ol' Unc' Jim he tek de chair an' begu' fo' ter tune de banjo. An' I want yo' ter know, chile, dat ol' Unc' Jim wuz de champeen banjo picker ob de quah-tahs. Dey might er bin some ez t'ought dat dey cud pick hit, but hit tuk Unc' Jim ter show 'em how. He wuz up ter all de tricks ob de trade in de banjo pickin'. He cud t'row de banjo eroun' behind him, an' swing hit by de neck an' toss hit in de air an' ketch hit ag'in an' go right erlong a-pickin' an' nevah miss de tune. I tell yo', Unc' Jim wuz a dandy at de banjo, an' w'en he stahnt in ter play dey wuz sompin' doin'."

"Well, w'en Unc' Jim he stahnt in on de banjo Sukey Snow she teks de flo' fo' ter dance. Sukey wuz er late bright mulatto gal. She'd got de idee in her haid dat she cud outdance de bes' in da quah-tahs. An' I tell yo', chile, de way dat gal fling her feet about wuz er caution! She'd put her ban's on her hips an' sway herse'f back an' fo' th an' luk over her shoulder at de boys an' grin laik she dared 'em, an' all de time she keep her feet golu' to beat de ban'."

"De crowd dey all lafts an' whoops an' claps dey ban's an' pats dey feet on de flo', an' dey all 'low whut Sukey's de champeen dancer ob de quah-tahs—dat is, dey all 'lowed, she wuz 'ceptin' Aunt Dinah. An' Aunt Dinah, she stud in de kitchu a-washin' up de supper dishes an' a-lookin' on wid her nose in de air, an' she 'low ter herse'f dat Sukey mek de orneriest kin ob a dancer dat she ebbah see in all her bawn days."

"Todes de las, des ez Sukey wuz a-railroadin' her pooties, Aunt Dinah kaint stan' hit no longer."

"Umph! sez she. 'D' yo' call dat dancin'? Git off de flo', gal. Hit teks me ter show yo' how ter dance!"

"Au, wid a whoop, Aunt Dinah jumped infer de middle ob de flo', showed Sukey er side an' begun ter jig erway laik all possessed. Ol' Unc' Jim he struck up er rattlin' tune an' played faster'n ebbah. De faster he played de faster Aunt Dinah dance. She cut de pigeon wing, she railroaded an' she do de hoedown; she whirl roun' an' roun', she spring high in de air an' she toss her arms; she sway back an' fo' th an' she shout an' sing, an' all de time she keep er-flappin' her feet in de libelies' kin ob er way an' nebbah miss de tune. Hit mek de folks roll dar eyes, I tell yo', fo' ter see her! Talk eroun' bein' he'less an' crippled wid rheumatiz! Shoo! Aunt Dinah wuz sho' 'nuff pertendin'!"

"Bimby, w'en de tune's ended, Unc' Jim lay de banjo down, an' he 'low dat playin' an' dancin' is dry wuk an' hit wuz time dey wuz passin' roun' sumpin'. All dis time nobody pays no 'tention ter a po' cracker white dat wuz er-settin' quietly by de chimney corner er-lookin' on. He'd come to de cabin do' des ez Sukey wuz erbout ter stahnt de dance an' axed Unc' Jim c'd he please come in an' set by de chimney corner an' res', dat he wuz tromplin' 'cross de kentry an' wuz nigh plumb tuckered out an' hongry ez er dog. Unc' Jim 'lowed he c'd'n't set in de corner twell de shindig wuz ober, an' den ef dar wuz enny scraps lef' de white man c'd'n't have 'em ter eat. De man wuz suddently de shackles' po' white dat 'd ebbah bin send roun' de quah-tahs, but he set quietly by de chimney corner wid his ol' haid drawed down ober his eyes an' his arms folded watchin' de goin's on an' nebbah sayin' a wuid er makin' er move."

"So now Unc' Jim call ter de white man, an' dey tek er tray ob angs an' go down cellar, whar Unc' Jim had stowed erway a kag ob Marn's John's bes' applejack dat day unbeknownst. De cracker white he' de tray an' de candle, an' Unc' Jim ups wid de ax an' knocks in de haid ob de kag, an' fills de mugs wid de applejack. Den Unc' Jim he tells de cracker white to go up stairs an' serbe de applejack to de ladies an' gemmen, whiles Unc' Jim stays down by de kag ter fill up de mugs ez dey's bring-down empty."

"An' min' out how yo' does hit, too, white man!" says he. "An' min' out dat yo' don't slight nobody, 'kase ef yo' does we'll kill yo'! Yo's de on'y white man in de quah-tahs t'ernight, so bettah watch out!"

"Well, w'en eberybody'd bin serbed wid applejack 'roun' an' 'roun' ag'in an' dey wuz feelin' happy, Unc' Jim comes up from de cellar an' de cracker white set down by de chimney corner wif er mug ob applejack dat Unc' Jim gib 'im. Unc' Jim tek up de banjo an' stahnt ter pickin' ag'in, an' Aunt Dinah she begin fo' ter dance some mo', an' eberybody else keep time a-chippin'."

"Unc' Jim, he look up at de cellin' an' sway his body back an' fo' th, an' pat his foot on de flo', keepin' time to de music."

"Bimby he commence ter sing: "Ol' Marn's John gone ter Memphis to-day Clap yo' han's, niggahs. Mek yo' feet go pit-a-pat. Ol' Marn's John long time gone erway. Oo-ah, niggahs, ain' yo' mighty glad ob dat?"

"Pussim an' a-fryin' an' de taters burst an' white. Clap yo' han's, niggahs. Mek yo' feet go pit-a-pat. Gwine ter hab gre't times at ouah house t'ernight. Oo-ah, niggahs, ain' yo' mighty glad ob dat?"

"Gwine ter pick de banjo an' dance de buck an' wing. Clap yo' han's, niggahs. Mek yo' feet go pit-a-pat. Gwine ter drink all night an' all night gwine ter sing. Oo-ah, niggahs, ain' yo' mighty glad ob dat?"

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherry bark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Dr. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in bilious or liver complaints and in all wasting diseases where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

"The Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and through them the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine or known composition, not thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

"All de while Aunt Dinah she kep' on a-dancin'. She ben' her body back, an' she ben' her body fo' th, twell she mos' bow to de ground. She dance ober to whar de cracker white's a-settin' by de chimney corner, an' she bow low befo' him twell her haid mos' tech his'n, an' she look him in de face an' roll her eyes. Den she dance back whar Unc' Jim's a-settin' pickin' de banjo, she whisp'er ez she pass him."

"Unc' Jim, I's 'spicious 'bout dat 'ar white man!"

"Wha' yo' mean?" Unc' Jim whisp'er back.

"Wait!" sez Aunt Dinah.

"So Aunt Dinah danced across ter de cracker white ergin an' ben' low befo' him twell her haid mos' tech his'n, an' look him in de face an' roll her eyes. Den back she danced ter Unc' Jim an' sez:

"Unc' Jim, I 'low dat ain't no crack er white!"

"Who yo' 'low 'tis, den?" sez Unc' Jim.

"I 'low 'tain't nobody in de roun' wor' but Marn's John his own se'f!" sez Aunt Dinah.

"Shoo!" Unc' Jim 'spoun', an' he go right erlong playin' de banjo.

"Ouncet mo' Aunt Dinah danced across ter whar de cracker white's a-settin'. An' dis time w'en she ben' low befo' him she sez:

"White man, speak up an' tell de troof. Ain't yo' all Marn's John?"

"Ah am!" sez de man. An' he stud up an' pulled off his ol' hat an' false beard, an' hit sho'ly wuz Marn's John! He hadn't gone ter Memphis 'tall. He wuz des a-pertendin'. He'd come dar disguised ez er cracker white fo' ter see whut troof dar wuz 'bout Aunt Dinah's dancin'."

"Oh, de law gorrarnity!" screams Aunt Dinah. An' she t'rows up her han's an' draps ter de flo', dead ez a doornail, an' nebbah moved ag'in."

"Well, dat put er stop ter de high jinks mighty quick. Eberybody quit dare clappin' an' stompin' an' rolled dare eyes. Unc' Jim frowned down de banjo an' jumped ter his feet. He gib one look at Marn's John an' one look at Aunt Dinah. Den he sez, 'Feet, carry off de body!' an' lep'."

"He stud up an' pulled off his ol' hat."

"Trough de winder, tekin' sash an' all, an' lit out. De res, dey foller suit, an' dey tuk off helter skelter trough doahs an' winders, whichever happened handy, an' scattered in de night. An' ez fo' Unc' Jim, nobody ain' nebbah laid eyes on him since, an' whar he lit out ter after he lep' trough de winder de goodness on'y knows!"

Had to Get Up.

Many years ago Dr. Oscar Blumenthal, the director of the Lessing theater in Berlin, had an unpleasant experience of the vigilance with which the authorities carried out their duties.

In his comedy, the "Orient Reise," one of the characters was afflicted with a mother-in-law of the most objectionable kind. This lady died and, according to the belief of her relatives, went to heaven. The prospect of a fresh acquaintance with his dreaded mother-in-law so terrified her son-in-law that he announced that if this should be his fate "when the resurrection comes I shan't get up."

This was sufficient for the authorities. Twenty-four hours after the production of the piece an ominous blue envelope arrived at the Lessing theater containing a peremptory order from the president of police that the lines in question should be immediately suppressed "as being calculated to wound the religious feelings of the lieges."

The Ideal Forester.

To be a good forester a man should combine something of the naturalist with a good deal of the business man. To know how to use the forest he must be able to study it. He must have, therefore, the power of observation, a fondness for nature and the ability to penetrate her secrets. But if he is to succeed he must also have good practical judgment and the ability to meet and handle men. He must be resourceful, able to stand by himself, willing to undergo the privations of rough life and capable of commanding the respect of rough men, who quickly recognize virility and genuineness of character, but will not tolerate pretense or the assumption of superiority. A forester needs a vigorous mind in a vigorous body. He must be of the kind that likes to get things done and does not give up when things are not going his way. He will have to face difficulties and work out problems far from outside help, relying solely on himself. He ought to be hard to whip.

A Business Asset.

The owner of the only red brick building in a downtown block of gray buildings decided to paint his building the prevailing tone. Without previous announcement of his intention to the tenants he sent the painters around on Monday morning to begin work. When the tenants learned his purpose, a mighty howl was raised by them.

"Change the color of this building!" they exclaimed. "Why, this vivid red is one of our best business assets. It helps to locate us. Being the only red building in the neighborhood, it sticks in the minds of people who can't remember the number, but who can direct others to us just because we are doing business in a red house. We have stayed here all these years on account of the conspicuous color. If that is changed, we shall move."

The owner listened to these plaints patiently. Then he went ahead and painted the building, but he painted it a still brighter red.—New York Press.

NEW $5 GOLD PIECE

Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco Mints Now Coining it.

Washington, D. C.—The mints at Philadelphia, San Francisco and Denver last Friday began coining a new $5 gold piece struck on a different plan from any heretofore coined in the world. It follows an idea expressed to President Roosevelt by Dr. Sturgis Bigelow of Boston, that to permit the coins being piled to a uniform height, a high or strong relief might be obtained by depressing the design below the field or face of the coin, instead of raising it above, as usual in all coinage operations. This would provide a flat field and a uniform thickness, the flat surface taking the wear and tear and protecting the relief, the shape of the depression following the outline of the relief. The same design will be used on the $2.50 gold pieces and all will bear the "In God We Trust" motto. While never applied to coins, the counter-sinking relief is one of the oldest forms of sculpture in stone.

When the lungs are sore and inflamed, the germs of pneumonia and consumption find lodgment and multiply. Foley's Honey and Tar kills the cough germs, cures the most obstinate racking cough, heals the lungs, and prevents serious results. The genuine is in the yellow package. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Beaten Biscuits

One quart of flour, half of a teaspoonful of salt, piece of lard the size of an egg. Mix with cold water into very stiff dough. Beat with an axe or flator until the dough is smooth and blisters. Then mold into biscuits and bake in a very quick oven.

Winter blasts, causing pneumonia, pleurisy and consumption will soon be here. Cure your cough now, and strengthen your lungs with Foley's Honey and Tar. Do not risk starting the winter with weak lungs, when Foley's Honey and Tar will cure the most obstinate coughs and colds, and prevent serious results. Ed. D. Heckerman.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD

More Alert, More Thorough and More Fearless Than Ever.

A President of the United States will be elected this year. Who is he and who is the man whom he will beat? Nobody yet knows, but the Thrice-A-Week edition of the New York World will tell you every step and every detail of what promises to be a campaign of the most absorbing interest. It may not tell you what you hope, but it will tell you what is. The Thrice-A-Week World long ago established a character for impartiality and fearlessness in the publication of news, and this it will maintain. If you want the news as it really is subscribe to the Thrice-A-Week edition of the New York World, which comes to you every other day except Sunday, and is thus practically a daily at the price of a weekly.

The Thrice-A-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The Gazette together for one year for $2.20. The regular subscription price is $2.50.

Desperate Coughs

Dangerous coughs. Extremely perilous coughs. Coughs that rasp and tear the throat and lungs. Coughs that shake the whole body. You need a regular medicine, a doctor's medicine, for such a cough. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

We publish our formulae. We banish alcohol from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor.

Any good doctor will tell you that a medicine like Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cannot do its best work if the bowels are constipated. Ask your doctor if he knows anything better than Ayer's Pills for correcting this sluggishness of the liver.

COLLISION ON H. & B. T.

Several Injured When Train Struck Misplaced Switch.

Passenger train No. 4 of the H. and B. T. Railroad, which leaves here at 9:20 a. m. and arrives at Huntingdon at 11:15 a. m., ran onto a siding at Saxton last Friday morning because of a misplaced switch, crashed into a string of cars, and damaged the engine and combination mail and baggage car, besides injuring a number of the crew and some passengers.

G. B. Gay, engineer of the train, had his head cut and chest hurt. Mail Clerk G. W. Warfield of Harrisburg, had his back severely wrenched and sprained, and John Pennington, baggage man, injured his right leg severely. George H. Winters express messenger on the train, received a blow over the right eye that affected his sight. Oliver Lloyd, assistant supervisor of the road, who was riding on the engine, had his head and hip hurt, and three passengers, Mrs. Viola J. Reed of Saxton, Alex. S. Smogen of Shamokin, and James Fisher of Washington, D. C., received minor injuries. Fireman William Ross of Everett was the most seriously hurt and, with Engineer Kay, was detained at Saxton for treatment.

The cylinders of the engine were broken, as well as the tank, and the tender was forced into the cab of the engine and into the combination baggage and mail car, smashing the end of the mail car completely. The official report of the accident lays blame for the misplaced switch on L. H. Keagy of Ray's Hill.

Mrs. Edward Stuckey

Mrs. Olive, wife of Edward Stuckey, of Rainsburg died at her home on November 11, aged 53 years, one month and 13 days. Mrs. Stuckey was a daughter of David and Eva Diehl and was born in Coleman Township on September 28, 1855. On September 29, 1881, she was married to Edward Stuckey, who, with two children, Carrie and Stanley, survives. Also three brothers, M. I. John and U. G. Diehl, and one sister, Mrs. Edward Smith.

The funeral service will be conducted today at 10 o'clock, in the Reformed Church at Rainsburg by Rev. E. H. Jones of the Lutheran Church, and interment will be made in the cemetery at the Reformed Church in the Cove, of which she was a member.

The Stuckey family was stricken with typhoid fever, three members of the family being in bed at the same time, the mother, a daughter, Miss Carrie, and a son David, who died on September 7. Mrs. Stuckey was confined to her bed for 13 weeks.

Clair Whetstone

Clair Whetstone, son of Levi (deceased) and Susan Whetstone, died at his home in Morrison's Cove on Friday, November 6, at the age of four years, two months and 24 days. Death was caused by an abscess on the brain.

His father preceded him in death about two years ago. Two brothers, one sister and his mother survive. The funeral took place in the Koontz Church at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning, Revs D. T. Detwiler and D. M. Van Horn conducting the services. Interment at New Enterprise.

Union Thanksgiving Service

At a recent meeting of the local ministers it was decided that the union service be held in St. John's Reformed Church Thanksgiving morning, November 26. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. H. B. Townsend of the Presbyterian Church.

IMPROVING MOUNTAIN HOUSE

Hon. J. E. Thropp Will Preserve Fulton County Game.

Hon. Joseph E. Thropp has a number of men at work repairing and altering the historic Mountain House on the old McIlvaine property in Fulton County. A new pipe line has been laid, bringing pure spring water to the building, a new roof is being put on, the porch changed and improved, two bathrooms are being put in the house, a small room made into a sitting room and writing room on the second floor, board partitions replaced by plaster, the rooms will be neatly papered, and the wood work, inside and out, painted. The new barn is about completed.

Notices are being posted over that and what was formerly the Scott-Gratz land, forbidding trespassing and hunting. In this matter Mr. Thropp is showing no selfish spirit, just the reverse. He does not intend to kill the game himself and he wishes to protect it for a year or two so that hunting will be worth while. It is understood that Mr. Thropp may purchase and set free some wild animals and birds in the spring. The people should show their appreciation of what Mr. Thropp is doing by helping him to protect the game and encourage its increase.

William H. Saxton

After an illness of 13 years from paralysis, William H. Saxton died Sunday afternoon, November 1, at his home in Huron, S. D., aged 56 years.

Mr. Saxton was born near Harrisburg, this state, in 1852. He came to Bedford when 19 years of age and began railroad work and spent a number of years in the service here, making many friends.

In 1882 he moved to Huron and became an engineer on the Dakota division of the Chicago and North-western. On December 24, 1885, he was married to Miss Annie Culp of Schellsburg who, with two children, survives him.

Mr. Saxton was a member of the Masonic fraternity and of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.
